ARCHITECTURAL WOOD BOOK

“L’architettura, disciplina dell’edificare, sceglie, dirige e giudica i contributi pratici e teorici di molte altre scienze ed arti. (...) il vero architetto dovrà possedere doti intellettuali e attitudine all’apprendere... Sia perciò competente nel campo delle lettere e soprattutto della storia, abile nel disegno e buon matematico; curi la sua preparazione filosofica e musicale; non ignori la medicina, conosca la giurisprudenza e le leggi che regolano i moti degli astri...”

Vitruvio, architetto del I secolo a.C.,
“De architectura”

“Architecture - the art of building - selects, oversees and evaluates the practical and theoretical elements of many other sciences and arts. (...) The true architect must have a highly-developed intellect and a propensity for learning... “He must be learned in literature and, above all, in history, a skilled designer and a capable mathematician; he must study philosophy and music; nor must he disregard medicine, nor jurisprudence, nor the laws which govern the movement of the stars”.

Vitruvius, architect from the first century A.D.
“De architectura”

GUSTO ITALIANO E ALTA TRADIZIONE ARTIGIANALE VENETA

Le cose importanti

Gusto italiano...

alta tradizione artigianale veneta.

In Veneto la lavorazione del legno affonda le radici in una tradizione di secoli... Remeri, maestri d'ascia, costruttori di grandi galere ed eleganti gondole... dal mare...

Falegnami, intagliatori, ebanisti, restauratori... dalla montagna.

Complici le Dolomiti e il territorio ricco di boschi è sempre esistita una spontanea radicata vocazione all'utilizzo del legno... dai cantieri navali ai tanti impieghi quotidiani e diffusi nelle abitazioni tradizionali in montagna...

Fino alle grandi opere di arte sacra che rivestono altari, presbiteri e navate delle nostre mille chiese...

Triveneta Parchetti è parte di questa secolare tradizione e la prosegue nel segno del vero made in Italy e della alta tradizione artigianale veneta, scrigno della cultura del saper fare.

What is important - Italian taste...

the true master craftsmanship of the Veneto region.

In the Veneto region, woodworking is a centuries-old traditional craft. Makers of wooden oars, master axe-makers, builders of galleons and elegant gondolas... always with the sea in mind...

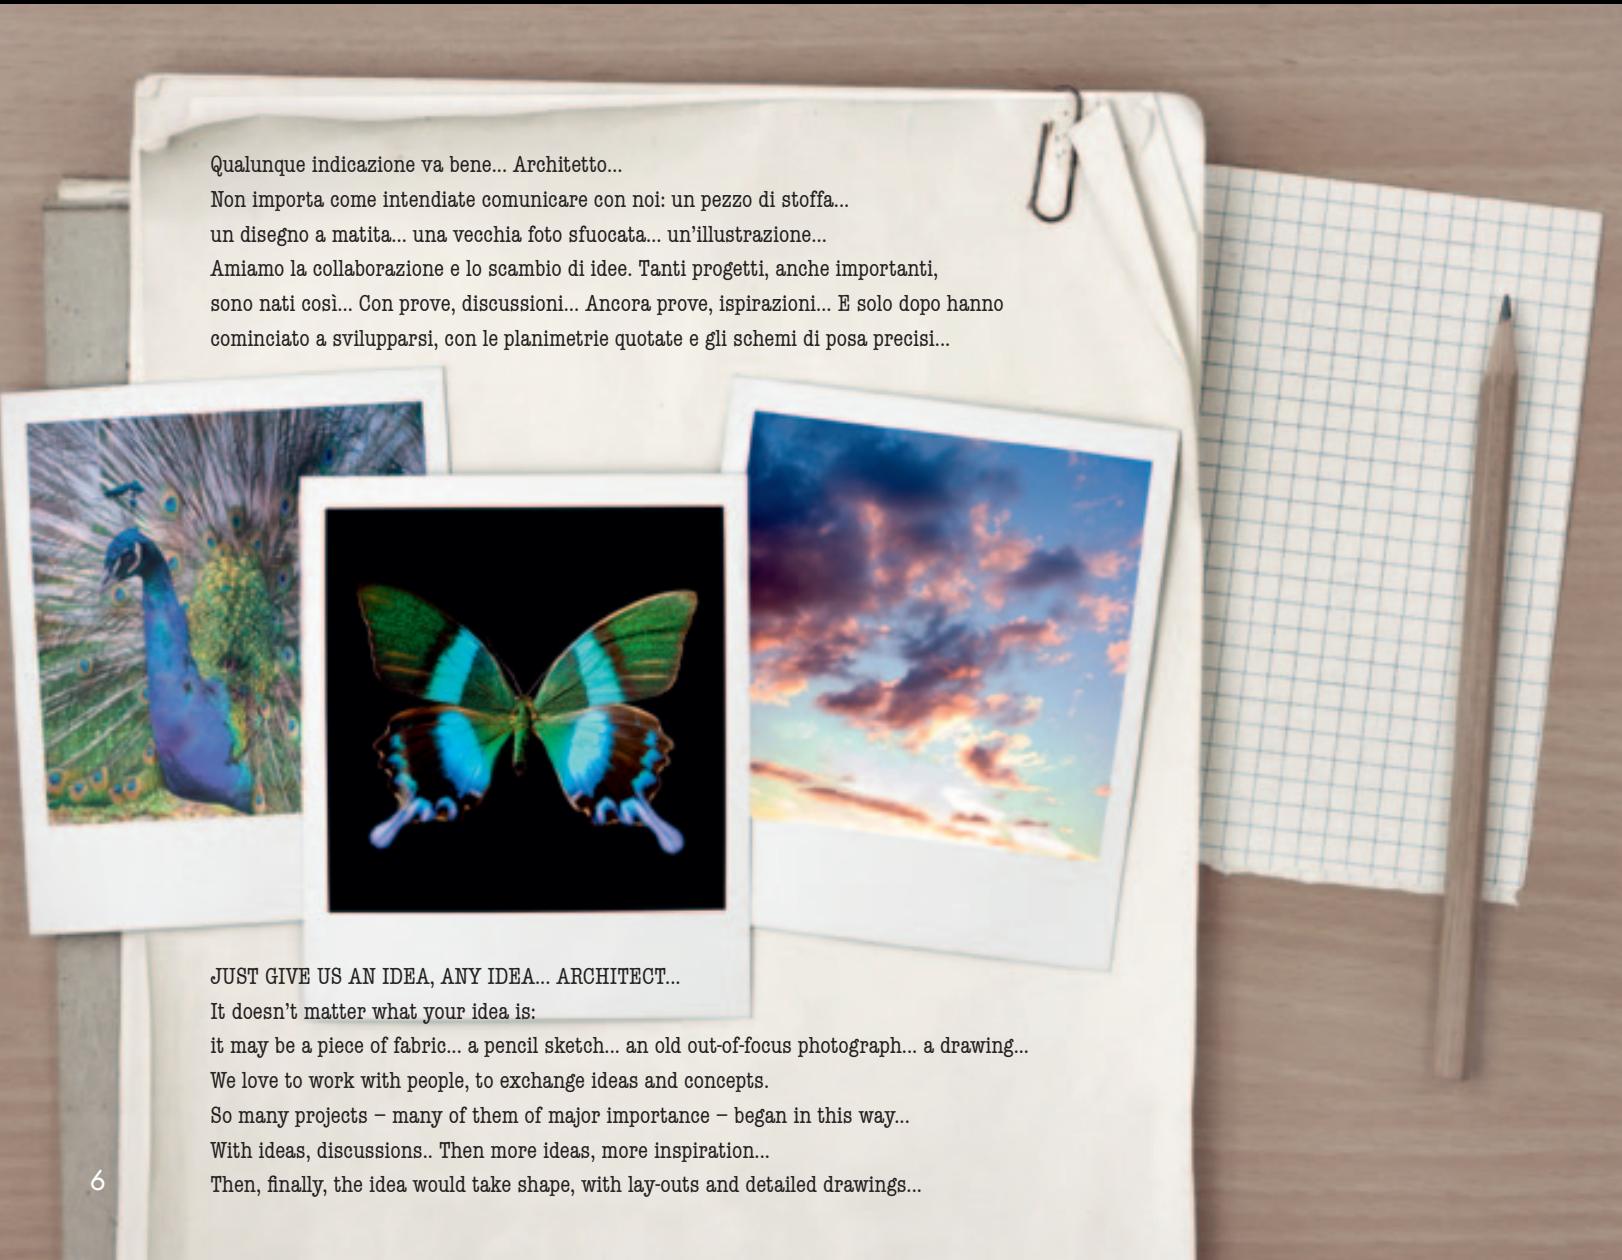

Carpenters, wood-carvers, cabinet-makers, restorers... many from the mountain regions. In the nearby Dolomite mountains, a region rich in woods and forests, where wood is at the very heart of local life and art... from the naval shipyards to the many simple daily utensils used in so many traditional mountain homes... And to the great works of sacred art which adorn the altars and naves of the thousands of local churches...

Triveneta Parchetti plays a part in this centuries-old tradition, and to this day continues to create a 'made in Italy' product that is worthy of the highest craftsman traditions of the Veneto region, one of the oldest and most renowned cradles of artisan culture.
